To engage in planting activities with intermittent support. To water plants with intermittent support. I observed an adult planting a bean and watched the growth of a bean on a BBC clip with support. I added soil to a pot and pushed a hole into the soil to put the 'bean' into. I covered the bean with soil and gave it some water. I was encouraged to put it on the side to leave it to grow.

I put the cup into the bag of soil and scooped the soil out and into the cup. Clever thinking Joseph!
