

Day 4 in Poland-Hello from Tomasz, Sienna, Bob and Cordell

Today we had a slightly more relaxed start to the day and ate our breakfast at the hotel. There was one drama though when Bobs tooth fell out in his cereal! Two teachers then came to pick us up from the hotel and take us to the school. We waited for the rest of the visitors to arrive and then joined some of the children in the Gymnasium. For music and singing.

We did loads of songs and each song had props and actions! We got to join in with all our new friends and even made some more friends but it was hot in there and we were happy to go to the Multi-Sensory Light room for a bit of relaxation while Julia had to go and talk to the other teachers about all the things we have done since we got involved in this Erasmus+ Project with Netherlands, Poland and Lithuania.

We went down to the dining hall for lunch (Soup followed by Breaded chicken, mashed potato and cucumber salad)

Afterwards we waited a short while for the coach before heading off to Studio Wrazen for a Five Senses Workshop. This was a very busy session which included us playing instruments; making shakers; walking bare foot in sand; creating a wall frieze "under the sea"; painting with a mixture of food colouring and egg (!) on the walls; making puppets with mod-roc and having a calming session with glow sticks and little candle lights! All too soon we were back on the coach and heading back to Rybnik. You will be glad to know it was an uneventful journey!

A short taxi ride back to the hotel was followed by us playing some card games and the grownups helping us to pack our suitcases. Meanwhile Tomasz had a visit from his Grandfather which was lovely.

Then we went to the Hotel Restaurant (we think it is probably 5 star!) and we had a tasty meal. We had Chicken Nuggets and chips and then some of us had chocolate brownie and some had apple pie. Tomasz ate his meal with his grandfather.

After our meal we headed back to the bungalow and played another game of cards before getting ready for bed! I wonder if the Polish Tooth Fairy will come to collect Bobs tooth?

We have all had a fabulous time but we are all ready to head home tomorrow afternoon to see our families.
